

Marine Band To Present Noted Musical Artists

Famous Military Band Will Appear in Concert Here On October 2

Opening the 1939-1940 Concert and Lecture Series at Alabama College, the United States Marine Band will play there in two concerts Monday, October 2.

This band—long a favorite among radio listeners—has a national reputation as one of the outstanding military music groups in the world.

In this year's tour of the South, made possible by the special permission of President Roosevelt, the band is under the baton of Captain Taylor Branson, with William Santelman as second leader. Some of the featured soloists in the band who have a wide following are Winfred Kemp, cornet soloist; Robert Isele, trombone soloist; Charles Owen, one of the nation's foremost artists, and Oliver Zinsmeister, xylophone soloist.

The band in recent years, while still favoring the popular music which made it famous, is tending more and more in its programs toward a symphonic treatment. This has included special attention for the classical works of such composers as Wagner, Sir Edward Elgar, and Saint-Saens.

The afternoon concert is directed especially toward high school students with the works of Strauss and Lehar predominating. The evening concert, at 8:15 in Palmer Hall, will be more typical of the band's repertoire and designed for a mature audience.

The appearance of the Marine Band opens the most distinguished Concert and Lecture Series ever arranged by Alabama College. Later attractions are Nino Martini, romantic young Italian tenor; Eva LeGallienne, first lady of the American stage; Virgil Fox, organist; Poldi Mildner, pianist; the Argentinian Dance Group and Madame Pearl V. Metzeltin.

Mrs. Bruce Under Medical Supervision

President A. F. Harman received last week a cable from Innellanop, Scotland, from the personal physician of Mrs. Isobel Campbell Bruce, advising him that Mrs. Bruce, who was on the Athenia enroute to America when it was sunk, will be unable to come to Montevallo to resume her teaching "before January."

The cable from Dr. James Brown read, "Mrs. Bruce transferred home under medical supervision. Recovery slow. Cannot be expected to return before January." She was associate professor of sociology at Alabama College.

Pending her recovery and return to America, Dr. Harman announced the appointment of Miss Annie Louise Pruitt of Mobile as ad interim professor in Mrs. Bruce's place. Miss Pruitt, a graduate of Huntingdon College, is director of the social service division of the Area Office of WPA in Mobile.

She formerly taught sociology and did case work at the University of Alabama. She has done welfare work in Elmore and Walker Counties, and had special social service training at Tulane.

MISS ROBERTS RECEIVES LOVEMAN SCHOLARSHIP

Holder of this year's Loveman, Joseph and Loeb scholarship at Alabama College will be Miss Frances Roberts, 1414 Ardsley Place, Birmingham. Miss Roberts was acting president of last year's freshman class at Montevallo and is a home economics major. She is chairman of home service of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, a member of The Alabamian staff, and has made an outstanding scholastic record.

Miss Virginia Frost and Miss May Lyman Woods spent Saturday in Birmingham.

Legion Commander To Visit Local Post

Department Commander Charles E. Wiggins has outlined the most ambitious and energetic program ever inaugurated in Alabama to boost membership in the American Legion.

He has completed his visits to northern and southern areas, and upon his return from the national convention will begin his "tourade" of central Alabama.

Commander Wiggins and his "tourade" party, composed of the department vice commander, department adjutant, area and district commanders, will visit the posts of Shelby County on Tuesday, October 10. They will be at Montevallo for lunch at noon; Calera at 2 p.m.; Columbiana at 3:30 p.m.

Local post officials in the various communities will be active between now and the date of visitation, securing memberships, and rounding up the veterans for some kind of get-together for entertainment of the visitors.

STUDY CLUB

The Montevallo Study Club will have the first meeting of the fall season next week. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Presley Jeter with Mrs. Milton Jeter as co-hostess, on Wednesday, September 27, at four o'clock.

Liquor Haulers Arrested By Marshal Gardner

City Officer Gardner reports his engagement in a hot chase with liquor runners last Saturday, which resulted in the wreck of an automobile, the injury of two of the occupants, and the arrest of all three on charge of violating the prohibition law.

Occupants of the car in which the liquor was being transported were Ollie Cain, the driver, Bob Phillips, and a negro named Sidney Whitaker. Gardner said he intercepted the car as it was approaching Montevallo at the viaduct. After a lively race through town at about 80 miles per hour, the officer followed the fleeing automobile until it struck a snag at the home of Luther Shaw in Aldrich, turning over four times. In the car, Mr. Gardner reports, there was five gallons of moonshine whiskey.

Whitaker and Phillips had to go to the hospital for treatment of their injuries. Cain was committed to jail in Columbiana. All were charged by Officer Gardner with violating the prohibition law and transporting five gallons of liquor.

Jarman Urges Veterans To Apply For Bonus

Congressman Pete Jarman, in a letter to The Times this week, brings to the attention of World War Veterans a matter that may be of very great importance to some of our ex-soldiers or their dependents. It is concerning filing of claims for adjusted service certificates, or what is sometimes referred to as the bonus. Mr. Jarman says:

"The time within which World War veterans, or their dependents, might file their claims for adjusted compensation, generally referred to as the bonus, has been extended by the Congress from time to time. The present limitation of January 2, 1940, was again extended for five years recently, but the veto of this bill by the President prevented it from becoming effective.

"Consequently, the 'dead-line' of January 2, 1940, still stands, and I cannot too strongly urge any veteran who served longer than 60 days during the war and who may not have applied for his bonus, or the dependents of deceased veterans who are not sure that this application has been submitted to attend to this matter at an early date. Those dependents entitled to draw the certificates are the widow; if no widow, the child; if no children, the dependent mother; if no mother, the dependent father.

"If there is any doubt in your mind, I shall be glad to ascertain the facts for you."

We have been notified by James N. Dennis, County RR Supervisor, Farm Security Administration, that his office is now accepting applications to buy farms under the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act. It is very important that all tenants, sharecroppers and farm laborers who are interested in being considered for one of these loans should file application at once.

Forms and applications may be secured at the Farm Security Administration office in the old court house, on the second floor, Columbiana, Ala.

Southern Railway Inaugurates New Streamlined Train

"The Goldenrod" Is Named For State Flower And Is The Latest In Modern Transportation

The people of Montevallo, Wilton and vicinity "turned out" by the hundreds Wednesday and gathered in holiday spirit at the Wilton station to greet "The Goldenrod," modern new streamlined Diesel powered passenger train of the Southern Railway.

This sleek new giant of the rails pulled into the yards at 10:30 amid the cheers of over 300 school children and about the same number of grown folks. Quickly the attendants made ready for the visitors to board the train and make a personal inspection of every detail. No sooner than the word was announced the new train was packed and jammed with people from one end to the other.

Officials in Charge

Mr. Frank L. Jenkins, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Railway, from Washington, D. C., with his secretary, Mr. R. T. Pinkerton, was in charge of The Goldenrod on this, her maiden trip. Other members of the official party were Mr. S. H. Johnson, of Birmingham, assistant general passenger agent; Mr. C. T. Hunt, of Atlanta, assistant general passenger agent; Mr. D. W. Brosnan, of Selma, division superintendent.

News and publicity men with the party included Mr. Ernest E. Dallis, of Atlanta, Ga., Mr. T. F. Hill of the Birmingham Age-Herald and Mr. Bob Kinney, of the Birmingham News. Mr. E. J. Coverdale, of the Fairbanks-Morse Company, was also a member of the party to observe the performance of the power unit which is a product of his company.

While preparations were being made for inspection by the visitors, several pictures of the crowd were made by news photographers. A group of local ladies posed in a special picture with Mr. Jenkins, with The Goldenrod as a background, was composed of Miss Jean Letson, Mrs. R. A. Baker, Mrs. John Hardy, Mrs. Ida Hendrick, and Mrs. Howard Latham.

300 School Children

Mrs. Charlotte Peterson, principal of Alabama College Elementary Training School, with her faculty, led a group of over 300 children as they went through the new train. Then when the Goldenrod was ready to proceed on its journey the whole school was loaded up and given a free ride to Brierfield where they were met by their motor busses and brought back to school. Imagination only can picture the glee of this group of children as they were accorded their first ride on one of the most modern transportation devices of our age.

Jail-Breaker Captured Saturday Night

Town Marshal Clyde Gardner caught Willie Lee Hall, negro, last Saturday night, wanted for breaking jail in Columbiana about a month ago.

Hall was originally placed in jail under a charge of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident in which he was involved.

Hall's father, Mr. Gardner says, is serving a term in the penitentiary. Willie Lee stole his father's car about four weeks ago, and proceeded to take in the country on a high lonesome. He had a wreck, left the scene, and wound up in Columbiana jail, from which he and some other prisoners effected their escape.

After his arrest Saturday night the negro was carried back to Columbiana to answer the original charge, plus an additional charge of breaking jail.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST

The Community Chest Assembly will meet tonight to receive reports upon the operations of the Chest Board for the past year. The Assembly is composed of the representatives of 22 groups of citizens of this community; that is to say, the Chest is thoroughly representative of the spirit and ideals of the people of Montevallo.

Not only is the Assembly to receive reports of what the Chest has done for the past year, but also it is empowered with authority to say what the people of Montevallo want to do about continuing this organized effort among ourselves as a community unit.

Coming to the end of two years of operation it is fitting that the representatives who compose the Assembly should appraise the work that has been done. The Assembly is in position to make this appraisal for the community, because the Assembly members come from every part of our citizenship.

The Times believes that Montevallo's Community Chest plan has been the means through which our community has been able to discharge well and efficiently the community's obligations in welfare and relief work for the needy, the sick, and the underprivileged; our obligations to the youth of the community in our schools by supporting materially a plan for better play facilities; our obligations to support the boys and girls in Scout work, in the band and in school athletics.

We hold the belief that Montevallo for the past two years has done this job better through the Community Chest plan than it has ever done it before, and better, in fact, than we could have done by any other means.

Therefore, we await with much interest the expression of our people through their representatives, the Assembly members, their opinion of what the Chest has accomplished.

THE GOLDENROD

Mr. Henry Davis, veteran employee of the Southern Railway, and well-known citizen of Montevallo, was busy as a bee in a tar bucket Tuesday, handing out schedule sheets and extending a hearty verbal and personal invitation to everybody to come to the Wilton station Wednesday to have a look at "The Goldenrod," Southern Railway's new Diesel powered streamlined train which will assume regular schedule daily between Birmingham and Mobile by way of Selma.

As a result of Mr. Davis' invitation, many of our citizens went to see the new train. It is brand new, completely air-conditioned, and will bring about a great improvement in our local passenger train service.

Mr. W. C. Graves of Bessemer, district manager of Southern Bell Telephone Co., was a business visitor in Montevallo last Friday. He stated that everyone seems to be pleased with the operation of the new dial telephones so far.

Miss Ellen-Haven Gould will have a lovely new home when she occupies the remodeled house on the corner of Plowman Street and Highland Avenue.

Mrs. Yeager's new house is about completed. It is a structure of unique design. Some might not agree with us if we say it is beautiful—but we guarantee it will attract the eye of every observer. It is a worthy addition to Montevallo's list of attractive homes. The Le-Baron family will live in it.

The AAA is promoting better use of land by making it possible for every farmer to take part in the work of soil conservation.

MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER

Owen Bridges has added The Montgomery Advertiser to the list of periodicals on sale at his news stand. He gets it fresh from the State Capital every day.

Regardless of all the other newspapers you may read you are not up-to-snuff until you have read Grover Hall's editorial page in The Advertiser.

Owen is selling copies of the paper now at his stand. He says he will put on a route and deliver it if he can secure enough regular subscribers.

Now to tell you the honest truth, we shall be greatly disappointed in Montevallo if there are not enough people here interested in The Advertiser to warrant carrier delivery. You could have it at breakfast every morning, and it is the best flavoring you can get for your cream of wheat.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Cassie Blankenship is about completed. It is located at the far end of the new bridge on a lot recently purchased from Dr. P. C. Wilson. The Blankenships decided to build a new home in another part of town after their residence with all its contents was destroyed in the storm last March.

Mr. Albert E. Baumgartner ("Bum") has returned to his old job as chief mogul of the repair and service department of Towery Motor Co. "Since I left here I have been all over the world and parts of Calera," said Bum, "yet I have continued to live in Montevallo all the while. I am glad to be back at Towery's. If you have car troubles, bring them to me. I will be glad to put you on the right road home and send you on your way rejoicing."

PELLAGRA DECREASES IN STATE THIS YEAR

Montgomery, Ala. — Less than one-third as many cases of pellagra were reported during the first eight months of this year as were reported during the same period last year, according to the State Health Department.

Cases reported prior to September 1 of this year totaled only 159, as compared with a total of 479 for the same period last year. Every month of the eight-month period showed a substantial drop in the number of reported cases this year, as compared with the same month in 1938. The largest decrease was shown in June, when only 23 cases were reported, or less than one-fifth as many as were reported in June of last year.

Tenants, including sharecroppers, operated 42 per cent of all the farms in 1935, as compared with 25 per cent in 1880.

General John J. Pershing, commander of the American armies in the World War, will be the guest of honor at the Chicago meeting, as will other high-ranking officers, many of whom will appear on the comprehensive program — a program that is destined to hold the attention of the entire nation because of the uncertainty throughout the world and the possibility that the United States yet may be called upon to save the European democracies from the onslaught of the dictators.

Saturday, September 23, at 1 p.m., Montgomery at 6:15 p.m., Birmingham at 9 p.m., and Decatur at 11 p.m. At these concentration points, it is understood that delegations from practically every Legion post and Auxiliary unit in the state will gather to join with hundreds of others in what is expected to be the largest delegation from Alabama ever to attend a National Legion Convention.

Southern Railway's answer to the question of new passenger service for local travel in a substantial and appealing way. These new light weight, stainless steel units have been built and placed in operation to meet the requirements of the traveling public for modern and efficient passenger trains. The Goldenrod and the Vulcan will serve local passenger traffic between Chattanooga, Birmingham, Tuscaloosa, Meridian, Selma, Mobile, and all intermediate points.

Named for State Flower
"The Goldenrod" is named after the state flower of Alabama. It represents the latest achievement in design, engineering and craftsmanship of railway transportation equipment. Due to the marvelous efficiency of the 750 horsepower Diesel engine, the train is operated smoothly. It starts easier without jerks, and can negotiate curves at high speeds with the utmost safety, due to the lower center of gravity.

The exterior of the train is attractively finished in green and aluminum stripes running horizontally from front to rear. The interior of the passenger cars is simple, yet pleasing in design, and with its many appointments, affords the utmost in riding comfort.

The cars are air-conditioned for all seasons to provide maximum comfort.

"We believe our many patrons will welcome this new development and the comfort and convenience afforded by this improved service," said Mr. Frank L. Jenkins, passenger traffic manager. And we agree with him that it will.

Lutz's New "Red Wagon"

When the new train takes up its regular daily schedule between Birmingham and Mobile it will be in charge of Conductor George Eason and Engineer Frank Lutz. They were handling her on the exhibition trip Wednesday. Mr. Lutz was as thrilled as one of the school kids with a new red wagon about how fine his new iron horse performs. "She is ball-bearing throughout," he said, "and there are miles and miles when she will coast along slick as a snake at lightning speed with no noise, no smoke, just as neat as a pin."

"Why," he chuckled, "this morning we cut off the power at Dogwood and coasted to Aldrich at fifty miles per hour, and had to keep the brakes on all the way to keep her from running clean past the Aldrich station."

A Good Time Was Had

The railway officials and employees gave their visitors a hearty and impressive reception, and sought every means of showing their appreciation of the interest of the many hundreds of people who met and greeted The Goldenrod on her initial tour.

On the regular daily schedule the new train going south will arrive at Aldrich station at 11:26 a.m., and at Wilton station at 11:33. Going north she is at Wilton at 1:05 p.m. and Aldrich at 1:09 p.m.

A MAN TOLD ME---

"The beer industry's drive to 'clean up or close up' the honky tonks in Alabama is the finest thing I know of."

"I want to buy beer but I insist it be sold under clean, wholesome conditions. That's what you and your industry are trying to do, and I'm for you all the way."

I thanked that man for his words of encouragement and told him the Brewers and Alabama Beer Distributors Committee had initiated cases before Alabama's aggressive ABC Board which had resulted in 17 revocations of license and three suspensions at law-violating retail beer outlets. I told him we had warned the owners of more than 100 other establishments conditions there must improve.

Then I promised that man we would never cease our work until disreputable honky tonks were driven from the state, and that we would then maintain a vigilant watch to prevent their return.
